About

Join us on April 24, 2022, for an afternoon of inspiration and action featuring Kailash Satyarthi, 2014 Nobel Peace Laureate and Children's Rights Activist, local youth leaders and community nonprofits. The PeaceJam Mid-Atlantic Peace Festival is a community celebration of peace, service, and compassion, and is designed to inspire young leaders to serve as peacemakers in their school, local, and global communities. The Peace Festival is the third and final day of the PeaceJam Mid-Atlantic Youth Conference Weekend. The Festival will consist of a youth-led series of service projects, a Peace Fair featuring local nonprofits, and a rally and march led by Kailash Satyarthi.

Who?

All are welcome at the PeaceJam Mid-Atlantic Peace Festival on April 24, 2022. The event is free and open to all ages. The PeaceJam Mid-Atlantic Youth Conference Weekend is being facilitated by college student volunteers from American University and Montgomery College.

What is PeaceJam?

PeaceJam Mid-Atlantic was established in 2019 as a regional affiliate of The PeaceJam Foundation, an international education organization led by 14 Nobel Peace Laureates. The mission of PeaceJam is to create a generation of young leaders committed to positive change in themselves, their communities and the world through the inspiration of Nobel Peace Laureates and the spirit, skills, and wisdom they embody. For the past year, PeaceJam students and staff have been preparing to welcome Kailash Satyarthi for a transformative weekend for hundreds of youth and members of the community.
